Bexley Schools Marlborough is one of 10 maintained schools in Bexley, along with 9 primary schools. In addition, the borough of Bexley benefits from 7 Catholic primary schools and 1 Church of England primary school, as well as 57 Academies (41 primary and 15 secondary) and 3 Free Schools. Educational attainment at GCSE is above the national average. There is an active and growing voluntary and community sector, which is highly valued by local people, and there is a strong tradition of successful partnership working.

Wellbeing

The wellbeing of our students and staff is paramount. The school is located within beautiful parkland, allowing for lunchtime walks and visits to the school Café, as well as access to a variety of local shops and eateries just a few minutes' walk away. It is a lovely feeling to be in the middle of the local community in which we have many charity partners. We are training up school therapy dogs to become an important part of the wellbeing offer for both staff and students who wish to be involved. All permanent staff have access to an Employee Assistance Programme; we have a wellbeing room, and an active wellbeing staff committee.

Leadership Team

All members of staff are leaders, and we use a whole school distributed approach to support our students and drive improvements. Every class teacher leads a subject area, and our UPS teachers provide mentoring and coaching to ECTs, HLTAs and new staff. We have two TLR holders for Social, Emotional, Mental Health and Sensory, and Communication and Independence. We also have two specialist TAs - one Health TA and one Inclusion TA.

Our formal senior leadership team consists of:

As a split site school, all senior leaders work across both sites – Marlborough Legacy and Marlborough Park Avenue, with DHT and AHTs having a main base. As a senior leadership team, we always work collaboratively together, providing support and challenge. We do not always agree but are always united once discussions are over and value constructive input.

What do our students think?

Student Voice

At Marlborough School, we support all students to find a way to have their voice heard with our students at the centre of our school community. Our students use a range of different communication techniques to express their views and our staff team are committed to helping them communicate their wishes and feelings.

Personalised communication can come in many forms, for example, Intensive Interaction and PECS.

Requesting

Ensuring that all students have ways to communicate to get their needs met is ongoing. Whether students use spoken language or other methods, such as symbols, to communicate we provide time and opportunity for them to feel confident that we will listen.

Making choices is one-way students can express their opinions and this is supported to suit the communication style of the individual, for example through real objects, photos, symbols, or structured opportunities to ensure it is meaningful to all.

All staff wear symbols with core vocabulary to support the communication of individual students.

Connecting

Students are encouraged to respond to their names and greet people in a conventional manner that is appropriate for them. Knowing who to go to and ask for what you need are important skills to enable them to develop a sense of belonging and to develop self-esteem and a sense of identity.

Teachers consult with families and key individuals to learn key words to give students the confidence at the initial stages of communicating and finding their voice.

Commenting and Sharing Information

Regular emotions and feeling check-ins happen across the school day using Zones of Regulation. Students are encouraged to recognise and share their feeling and comment on what they need to feel happy.

During the annual review process, students show how they feel through photos, taking part in the meetings or sharing their views with a familiar staff member.

Weekly assemblies allow students to share their work and celebrate their successes with peers and staff. Termly opportunities for parents and carers to visit school is an important part of them having a voice with their families about their school life.

Marlborough School also takes part in the Jack Petchey programme, allowing students to share successes and celebrate within the local community.
