Head of School Message

Dear Candidate,

I am delighted to hear of your interest in joining our team at the UCS. Over the past few years, our school has undergone a remarkable transformation, and I am excited to share the progress we have made.

Our school has been judged as 'good' by Ofsted, a testament to the hard work and unwavering dedication of our team. We have a cohort of willing and engaged students who thrive in our inclusive environment, as evidenced by our Inclusion Quality Mark (IQM) award.

We are particularly proud of our recent £17 million extension, which opened in September 2025. This new addition, along with our Multi Use Games Area that opened in September 2024, provides an incredible space for our students and the local community to engage in a wide range of sports and activities. This fantastic investment reflects our unwavering commitment to promoting health, well-being, and inclusivity.

We take great pride in our role within the UTC framework. It is our mission to ensure that pupils receive a high-quality technical education that equips them with the skills and knowledge necessary for a successful future. We believe that fostering strong partnerships with local employers is crucial in this endeavour. By working closely with industry professionals, we ensure that our curriculum is not only relevant but also aligned with the needs of the workforce. Some of the key aspects of our UTC model include:

- Industry Collaboration: We actively engage with employers to develop a curriculum that reflects current industry standards and practises.
- Hands-On Learning: Our approach emphasises practical experiences, allowing pupils to apply their learning in real-world contexts.
- Career Readiness: We are dedicated to preparing pupils for a variety of career pathways, ensuring they are equipped with both technical skills and essential soft skills.

I am truly proud to be a part of a UTC that prioritises the future success of our pupils through a relevant and engaging technical education.

We pride ourselves on upholding our core values of professionalism, responsibility, and loyalty. These principles guide our actions and ensure that we deliver the highest standards of education and support to our pupils.

I am confident that your skills and passion would be an excellent fit for our school, and I look forward to the opportunity to discuss this role with you in more detail.

Sincerely,
