Simon Collins, Principal
Parkwood Hall
Co-operative Academy

Welcome to Parkwood Hall

We are a specialist day and residential school for children and young people aged 8-19 who have moderate to severe learning difficulties and autism.

Many of our pupils have additional needs including ADHD, Downs Syndrome and language difficulties. All our pupils have Education, Health and Care Plans so all our referrals come via different local authorities across London and the South East, including Kent.

We are extremely fortunate in having an amazing site where the children can access our seventy-eight acres of green space and woodlands. We have two Forest Schools on site as well as purpose-built playground areas and sports areas. Our music and performing arts form an important part of our offer: we have a steel band as well as a Makaton Choir.

Our co-operative values are important to us especially honesty, openness, social responsibility and caring for others. They underpin the way we do things at Parkwood Hall. We are committed to providing a learning environment and learning pathway that enables all our pupils to achieve the best they can and help prepare them for adult life so they can live as independent a life as possible.

We have a highly skilled team of professionals including teachers, teaching assistants, speech and language therapists, occupational therapists, a school nurse and residential staff.

We are a 'stand-alone' special academy which has formally adopted the values of the co-operative school movement. This means that we are not part of a multi-academy trust and that we have undertaken to treat all pupils, families and employees honestly, openly and equitably. All our teachers are qualified and we honour national agreements in respect of pay and conditions of service for all staff.

All the governors of the school are directors of Parkwood Hall Co-operative Academy Trust Ltd and they are trustees of the charity which, among other things, owns and controls the land and buildings. We do not make a profit and there are no hidden 'back-office' operations.

Being an academy brings additional freedoms as well as responsibilities. We have the freedom to decide upon our own curriculum and we are able to be more flexible in meeting the needs of our pupils and their families.

We have created our own bespoke curriculum which is differentiated to each pupil's individual learning needs. We aim to make our curriculum engaging, relevant and exciting. The school is zoned in areas to accommodate Learning Pathway One which provides a pre-formal curriculum and Learning Pathway Two which provides a formal curriculum environment. The school also has a sixth form zone for post 16 pupils where the curriculum is about preparing for adult life with pupils focusing on core skills and independent living skills as well as work related learning.

Our philosophy is to try to provide a complete and joined-up service. From a broad range of evidence-based therapies which are available to all on the basis of need, to innovative curriculum developments such as Forest School, we listen to what families tell us they need and we try to ensure that their children's special, individual and complex needs are met.

Our values

Belief statement

We believe that every child at Parkwood Hall has the right to learning opportunities which mean they can become the best they can be.

We are a learning community together with our pupils, families, staff and local community partners where everyone can contribute and all are heard and valued equally.

Core values

At the core of what we do at Parkwood Hall is our mission statement:

"Growth through Personal and Social Development."

This does not just apply to the pupils with whom we work; we believe that we must constantly develop and grow as professionals, individually and collectively.

At the core of what we do are the co-operative values of:

- Nurturing – meeting a person's physical and emotional needs so they can achieve their best.
- Learner focused – developing the skills and talents of all our learners.

We develop resilience and a can-do attitude across our learning community. Underpinning everything we do are the co-operative school's ethical values of:

- Openness
- Honesty
- Social responsibility
- Caring for others

Finance & Operations at Parkwood Hall

The operations team within the academy trust encompasses all non-teaching parts of the school, such as the front-facing administration staff, all financial and HR support, catering and the site team, who manage the spacious grounds and buildings. There are 15 to 20 members of the team within these various roles. The Director of Finance & Operations will lead on all of these areas, as well as manage the outsourced IT support.

Your leadership style will be that you will lead by example and create a workforce that is professional, cohesive and which supports the teachers and the pupils throughout the school. Whilst this role has a business focus, it is also an integral part of the school life and the successful candidate must have the desire to work within this exceptional school.

Each component part of the operations has a manager who is responsible for the day-to-day function of their department. They will be line managed by you. You must have experience in managing staff and creating a strong team.

There are many aspects of finance and operations that require redesign/introduction of processes and controls. So, a clear, strong vision of what a well structured department consists of is highly desirable.

The trust has revenue of over £7m and you will be responsible for managing the budget and being accountable to the Trustees in all aspects of the financial strategy for the school. The school is financed by the charging of fees to local authorities throughout London and Kent, so experience in fees management could be beneficial.

A secure knowledge of how an academy functions financially will be greatly beneficial, but not crucial as full support will be provided to candidates from non-educational backgrounds.
