

“Unlocking the potential of every student and employee by providing a truly outstanding education”

Located 30 traffic-free minutes away from the centre of Newcastle, we are situated in one of the most beautiful areas of the UK, including the historic village of Warkworth and its castle to the north, the picturesque fishing village of Amble, and an area of outstanding national beauty at Druridge Bay.

Director of Humanities & MFL

Permanent

Leadership Pay Scale – L4-L8

Required for 1 September 2021

James Calvert Spence College is situated in a beautiful coastal town in Northumberland and is a 9-19 through school, catering for students from Year 5 to Year 13.

This exciting new post has been created for an enthusiastic, talented and driven individual to lead a team of dedicated teachers in our improving school at the heart of its community.

The Director of humanities and MFL will join five other colleagues at this level, holding a senior leadership position within James Calvert Spence College and be responsible for the quality of provision, and outcomes, across the school. Due to our unique age range, this person will be pivotal in ensuring outstanding provision for our students aged 9 upwards so they receive a truly seamless educational experience leading to employment or higher education.

This is an exciting time to join us as we continue our journey towards excellence. We have fully staffed departments of specialist teachers and offer geography, history and French at both GCSE and A-level.

Staff and governors are fully committed to promoting equal opportunity and an outstanding educational experience for all students.

You will:

- Be a strong classroom practitioner, keen use your experience and skills to develop members of your team
- Have a proven track record of leadership
- Have high expectations of yourself and others
- Be someone with a 'can do' attitude
- Be passionate about improving the life chances of our students

We can offer you:

- A strong and collaborative leadership team to work alongside
- Excellent opportunities for professional development
- A unique opportunity to extend your knowledge and experience, transforming the education of children from key stages 2 to 5
- Hardworking and dedicated staff who will go that extra mile to ensure our students get the very best possible education
- Well behaved pupils who are willing to learn

Should you wish to informally discuss these positions further or would like to visit the college, please contact Mrs Carole Hutchinson (01665 710636, Ext 204, chutchinson01@jcsc.co.uk) to arrange.

Application forms and further details obtainable by visiting www.jcsc.co.uk or telephone 01665 710636.

Completed applications should be submitted to Carole Hutchinson, Assistant to the Executive Headteacher, at James Calvert Spence College, Acklington Road, Amble, Northumberland NE65 0ND. (chutchinson01@jcsc.co.uk).
Closing date for applications: 12 noon, Monday 26th April.
