These partners can offer work experience, internships and mentoring opportunities. At HHCS we make it our business to help young people get ahead, and as such, we draw on international expertise by running international trips exploring cutting edge research, technology and industry.

DEVELOP

At HHCS, we want students to leave us with the experiences, skills and personal qualities required to succeed in university and beyond. To aid personal development and inspire our young adults to pursue their non-academic goals, we aim to build social and cultural capital through our:

We have a Student Leadership Programme designed to develop the skills and traits needed for success beyond the school gates. At HHCS we know that our students can have a profound impact on our community so Sixth Form students have the chance to lead

The Student Union Societies

We encourage and support students to set up and run societies that could benefit others.

THRIVE

HHCS has a dedicated pastoral team to monitor the welfare of our young people. We recognise that for individuals to thrive we must celebrate and embrace our individual differences to promote a sense of belonging.
