THE SCHOOL

Exceptional opportunities, exceptional outcomes

We are proud of the high quality education we offer at Honley. We are traditionally one of the highest performing schools in the region and this is directly attributable to the hard work and dedication of our entire staff team. We want our children to be the best that they can be and so there is a continual drive to develop and improve as professionals. As Ofsted stated following our last inspection: "Pupil outcomes are good because teachers have high expectations of what children can achieve and plan interesting tasks that engage pupils in their learning."

But these crucial years of adolescence are about more than exceptional performance in examinations. The world is changing more rapidly than any one of us can predict, and if our children are to thrive, they will need to develop personal skills and qualities alongside their academic qualifications. They will need a questioning mind, perseverance and resilience. They will need to be adaptable, creative and self-disciplined. These attributes are hard to measure but equally important, and we see it as our duty to develop students' character, as well as pursuing academic excellence.

We are nationally recognised for our sporting achievements and have a proud and enviable record in technology, drama and the creative arts.

Honley High is a fantastic place to work and learn and we are always aiming to develop even further. We live by our school motto. The quality of every interaction we have with students and staff establishes a culture where everyone can 'strive for the highest' and achieve great things.

We are looking for an extraordinary individual to join our school and really make a difference in the lives of our young people.

Liz Lord, HEAD OF SCHOOL

"I am pleased that the school has such high standards and expectations for the children and encourages them to meet these at all times; this sets the children up for later life. Whilst striving for these standards, the school maintains a nurturing environment."

ICT, Computing and Business & Enterprise at Honley High School

ICT, Computing and Business & Enterprise play a central role in preparing students at Honley High School for life in an increasingly digital, creative and entrepreneurial world. As part of Together Learning Trust, our department is ambitious for students, outward-facing and continually evolving, with a strong emphasis on high-quality teaching, real-world relevance and inclusive practice.

Our curriculum brings together Computer Science, Creative iMedia and Enterprise & Marketing, offering students a coherent and progressive learning journey from Key Stage 3 through to Key Stage 4. Across all subject areas, we aim to develop confident problem-solvers, creative thinkers and responsible digital citizens who understand how technology and enterprise shape society and future careers.

At Key Stage 3, students build strong foundations in computational thinking, programming, digital literacy and creative media. They explore how computer systems work, learn to create digital artefacts using a range of software tools, and develop an understanding of online safety, ethics and responsible technology use. Learning is carefully sequenced and revisited through a spiral curriculum so that knowledge and skills are embedded and deepened over time.

At Key Stage 4, students can opt to study Computing, Creative iMedia or Enterprise & Marketing. In Computing, students develop their understanding of algorithms, programming, systems architecture and data, alongside practical problem-solving and real-world applications. Creative iMedia allows students to respond to client briefs and produce professional-standard digital products using industry-relevant software, blending technical skill with creativity and design thinking. Enterprise & Marketing develops commercial awareness, financial literacy and entrepreneurial skills, with students analysing case studies, creating marketing campaigns and pitching business ideas in practical, engaging contexts.

Teaching across the department is underpinned by the Active Learning Cycle, with a strong focus on retrieval, application, feedback and reflection. Project-based learning, adaptive teaching and purposeful use of digital tools ensure that lessons are engaging, inclusive and accessible for all learners, including those with SEND. Assessment is used meaningfully to support progress, build confidence and prepare students for further study and future pathways.

We place great value on developing students beyond the classroom. The department actively supports extra-curricular clubs, competitions, enrichment activities and trips, and is committed to strengthening our wider offer around careers education, character development and cultural capital. Industry links, real-world scenarios and enterprise activities help students to see the relevance of their learning and understand the breadth of opportunities available to them.

As part of Together Learning Trust, the department benefits from regular collaboration with colleagues across other Trust schools. This enables shared curriculum development, professional dialogue and the opportunity to contribute to a wider learning community that values innovation, consistency and excellence.
