We are looking for a dynamic Head of Music who will seek to ensure that music becomes a routine feature of the culture of our school. Our whole-school curriculum model holds both music and the performing arts more generally in high esteem, and we consider them to be essential components of a broad, rich and diverse curriculum. All GCSE music students receive free instrument lessons and other year groups are subsidised by the school. This investment is likely to continue for the foreseeable future.

This is an exciting time to be joining Hornchurch High School as we have new and exciting plans for the near future. We want to recruit an enthusiastic colleague who can help plan and invest in our new model and ensure that the department grows to embody a key aspect of our curriculum.

We offer excellent training, exciting links with other school partners and provide opportunities for personal development. We have a vibrant work place with friendly, supportive colleagues and an excellent work/life balance.
