Pupils to pick new headteacher

Trythall Pupils' full list of New Headteacher Requirements

Trythall children demand a perfect headteacher to match their set of special requirements.

Unfortunately, due to old age Matthew Strevens (the current headteacher at Trythall) has announced his devastating departure after 16 long, wonderful years in the role.

Fellow Teacher Virg Davies summed up the current feeling at the school: "I think it is a tragedy because Mr. Strevens is like our dad."

The students of Trythall are looking for an out of the ordinary headteacher who is not just kind and humorous but values the outdoors and loves animals.

"I want them to keep the pets!" exclaimed Year 1 pupil Milly.

"I hope we all work together still and stay the tribe that we've always been," explained Max Year 5 pupil

"I honestly can't imagine Trythall without Mr. Strevens and if there were to be another headteacher they would have to be as similar to Mr. Strevens as possible," stated Lowenna Year 6 pupil.

Class 1 students interviewed Mat Strevens (Retiring Head) and asked what qualities he believed the new head would need to lead this unique school.

"Well, it would be really nice if they were kind and if they love nature, but it would mostly help if they're open minded because Trythall is a very different school."

This report was made with the support of Phil Wisdom -Print production sub-editor, DC Media as part of a 'Real Project'.

Phil quoted, ever-so kindly, "Judging by my day at Trythall, whoever becomes the new head will have very possibly the best job in the world, but will have to work very hard to keep up with the children's brilliant ideas and amazing energy. They know exactly what they want from their new head and they deserve to get it."
