Welcome from our CEO

Welcome to the Inspiration Trust - a multi-academy trust based in Norfolk and north Suffolk. We support a family of 17 academies, train new teachers and offer continuing professional development (CPD) courses to teachers across the region. We also spearhead Inspiration Teaching School and Angles Maths Hub.

We believe that every child deserves an excellent education. Our family of schools collaborate, support and innovate to give every child the best start in life. We're proudly committed to improving the standards of education in the East of England.

We care about every child that comes through our school gates, our staff, families and wider community.

We share our knowledge, ideas and expertise locally and nationally. Our teachers and leaders can benefit from our CPD programme and inspire the next generation of teachers through Inspiration Teacher Training (ITT).

We dare to do more for our children. We believe in a knowledge-rich curriculum combined with cultural opportunities, sports, music and enrichment. We're proud to support schools in some of the region's most disadvantaged areas - we believe every child can succeed.

I'm proud to lead a trust that's so committed to ensuring every child has the best education possible. We are a family of schools - sharing, learning and collaboration is at the heart of what we do.

Our family of schools

The Inspiration Trust family of schools spans across Norfolk and north Suffolk.

Each school is part of its local community and responds to the needs of its local area to provide the best possible opportunities for its young people.

About Inspiration Trust

Our knowledge-rich curriculum

Our trust is well known for its work on curriculum development. We were one of the first multi-academy trusts in the country to embrace the importance of a knowledge-rich curriculum.

By sharing the knowledge that has shaped society and is considered important within it, we give our children the power to shape their destination and society itself. Our curriculum is at the heart of our work to transform outcomes for the most disadvantaged children in our schools.

Inclusion

Our vision is for truly inclusive schools, where the needs of all children are met exceptionally well, including vulnerable learners, those from disadvantaged backgrounds, those with special educational needs and the most able. We believe that every child deserves an excellent education.

Our family of schools collaborate, support and innovate to give every child the best start in life. We're proudly committed to improving the standards of education in the East of England and we aim to be a model of best practice for inclusion for all pupils, particularly for our most vulnerable and disadvantaged students.

Our approach to curriculum is inclusive and built on the premise that all learners have an entitlement to powerful knowledge and an excellent education. This is key to social equity.

Through excellent teacher training and development and the use of evidence based teaching approaches, we ensure that all learners can access the curriculum, providing additional support where needed to meet children's needs.

As part of our approach to inclusion we also champion equality and diversity, ensuring our schools are places where difference is celebrated. Our schools also prioritise pastoral support and pupils' personal development and wellbeing to ensure they are able to achieve their potential. We believe that our schools can be truly inclusive whilst also having an academic vision where children achieve highly.

Inclusion expertise

Our central education team, supporting our schools to continuously maintain and improve their educational standards, includes our Director of Inclusion and a team of experts who work directly with our schools.

They work on key areas of inclusion, including:

- Pastoral support
- Improving pupil attendance
- SEND provision
- Behaviour standards
- Minimise exclusions.

Pastoral care

Pastoral care is really important to our trust. Our schools work closely with students and parents to support our young people at every stage. The role of our pastoral teams is to meet the social and emotional wellbeing needs of our students through a strong support system and to help students achieve their full potential.

Support for children with special educational needs and disabilities

Meeting the needs of all students is essential to the aims and principles of the trust. We want to ensure that all students with special educational needs and disabilities are integrated fully into school life and that they have correct support in place to allow them to thrive. We break down all barriers to learning and develop an environment where all children want to, and can, learn and achieve.

Teacher and leadership development

We are dedicated to providing excellent professional development for our teams, so that they can change the pupil's lives. Because of this - we do everything we can to make Inspiration Trust an exciting and fulfilling place to work.

Whatever your role, there is a pathway to support your development at Inspiration Trust.

Our offer:

- Bespoke induction programmes at all levels
- Inspiration Annual Conference, including keynote speakers and workshops from leading figures in education
- An exceptional CPD offer, delivered through Inspiration Teaching School.
- Excellent CPD delivered by our central education team in essential areas such as subject knowledge and inclusion.
- Access to networks and communities across the trust.

Inspiration Trust principles

Principle one – routines and preparation for adulthood

We use routines to make school efficient and increase learning time. But, we ensure that over time this scaffolding is removed to prepare children for the independence of adulthood.

Principle two – social

We raise our children to be comfortable in the social norms of most work-places. But, we think hard about where those norms may not feel inclusive; we want our children to feel welcome.

Principle three – powerful knowledge

We teach powerful knowledge so that children can understand, access and influence our society. But, we also teach critiques of this knowledge – to give our children an edge and show them that a canon is always up for debate.

Principle four – thinking

We guide learning carefully to ensure all children can access the curriculum and know it. But, we also challenge children to apply their thinking to complex problems to strengthen their intellectual resilience.

Principle five – teaching behaviour

We have rules and systems to ensure good behaviour so that all children can learn, disruption free. But, we realise that behaviour needs to be taught, and some children need more support to reach that standard than others.

We asked our staff

“What’s your favourite thing about working for Inspiration Trust?”

“Hethersett was where I was hoping to work following my degree, so I was delighted to receive and accept the offer.”

“At Charles Darwin everyone at the school has been very welcoming. It is a lovely place to work.”

“Staff are really passionate at Hewett Academy and I really wanted to be a part of a professional, caring team in a school where the children are at the heart of the learning process.”

“The support from my school and higher up in the Trust has been phenomenal and CPD (Continuous Professional Development) options have been fantastic.”

“I’ve had a great experience with the Trust and there are lots of CPD provisions.”

“My decision to become a teacher was to be the teacher I never had but always wanted. Being at Thetford Academy lets me see students having the education that I wish had been accessible to me.”

“I am proud to work in a school where pupils come to learn, where staff enjoy teaching, and most importantly where everyone works together to provide the foundations of a happy learning environment.”

“I cannot think of a better place to work!”

“The school and the Trust are incredibly supportive of staff when they are facing difficult life circumstances.”

“I joined East Point Academy in September. The HR (Human Resources) team ensured that the transition period was as smooth as possible and are always on hand for any questions.”

Living in East Anglia

East Anglia is a diverse region rich in natural beauty, heritage, culture and entertainment. Norwich was cited in The Times as one of the top places to live in the UK in 2022. There really is something here for everyone.

Norwich is a city of culture, with its rich history of art and writing, strong heritage, iconic buildings, castle and cathedrals as well as being a city of science - hosting some of the leading centres for life science research in the world.

Norwich has been named in the Top 10 UK shopping destinations with its two large shopping centres, one of the largest open-air markets in the country, and hundreds of boutique local shops.

East Anglia hosts some of the country's most stunning beaches and boasts hundreds of miles of rivers and lakes, much of which forms the world-famous Norfolk Broads. The sheer beauty of the region has been said to make Norfolk one of the happiest places to live owing to its abundance of wide open-spaces, and its crisp clean air away from the hustle and bustle.

The area is a nature lovers' haven, including Cley Marsh, named as one of Sir David Attenborough's favourite places to visit in the world. Norfolk is also home to several National Trust and English Heritage properties including the beautiful Blickling Estate.

East Anglia is also well connected. There are regular trains to Cambridge, Ely, the Norfolk Broads and the Coast, and a twice hourly train to London that takes under 2 hours. Norwich also has an international airport. While parts of Norfolk might not be as flat as you are led to believe, it is a cyclist's heaven. West Norfolk is full of straight, flat roads, lined with fields. East Norfolk offers some great cycle routes between pretty seaside towns, while North Norfolk is famed for its rolling hills. There is beautiful scenery, a relaxed way of life, compact urban centres, and rich culture and heritage, East Anglia has something to offer everyone.

Life in East Anglia is also exciting at the same time, with Norwich showcasing amazing restaurants, pubs, clubs, and bars including Benedicts, a modern British restaurant, opened by chef Richard Bainbridge in 2015.

For music and arts lovers, Norwich has a fantastic music scene that has attracted bands from all over the world to its many venues in the city. It also hosts Norfolk & Norwich Festival, an Arts and Literacy focused festival collaborating with communities, schools and artists to bring events and projects to the East of England.
