This exciting new post is an ideal opportunity for a talented musician with a real drive and enthusiasm for the subject to bring new perspectives and skills that will inspire and motivate our students. The successful candidate will help to introduce music technology to the curriculum under the Director of Music, as well as delivering elements of the traditional music curriculum.

The post-holder will help to promote a culture that helps to develop confidence for students of all levels of experience and aptitude, so that they can both learn and perform – and enjoy doing both! They must be a team player and will be expected to take an active involvement in the department's work across the board and in school life more generally.
