We are looking for a PE Teacher; the role involves teaching pupils with SEND (with all pupils at Dovedale having a primary diagnosis of Autism) who are unable to access mainstream education. Many of our Young People have gaps in their education and we strive to implement creative teaching strategies to reduce the impact of educational disadvantage, enabling all our Young People to access learning and make expected progress. You should be passionate about developing and supporting the needs of the whole child and committed to enabling all pupils to thrive. We are looking for a qualified teacher with tenacity, positivity and experience of teaching the subject at KS3 and KS4. You should have QTS and a track record as a consistently good practitioner.

This is an excellent time to join James Brindley as the Academy continues to implement a strategic vision developed by young people, staff, and other stakeholders. Join us to 'Think Differently' to inspire young people to overcome all barriers and achieve their dreams.

James Brindley is a stand-alone Academy based in a wide variety of locations across the City of Birmingham. During a school year, we educate over 3,000 young people for periods ranging from a few days in hospital to several years in one of our teaching centres. We offer a full-time curriculum to young people from EYFS to KS5 and our aim is always to enable them to 'close the gap' and to exceed expected progress during the time they are with us.
