Permanent or full time considered.

Opportunity for TLR for a candidate with the relevant experience or for an aspiring physics lead to develop into the role, to start as soon as possible

Based at John Ferneley College, Melton Mowbray, Leicestershire

The salary will be dependent on experience but will follow either the Main scale or Upper pay range.

The post is also suitable for ECTs, and we welcome your application.

Closing Date: Sunday 19th September 2021

Interviews will take place w/c 27th September 2021

We're looking for a talented and enthusiastic qualified Physics teacher to join our successful Science Department here at John Ferneley College. This is a fantastic opportunity to work with a highly supportive and extremely successful Science team. There will also be the opportunity of a TLR for a candidate with the relevant experience or for an aspiring physics lead to develop into the role.

Joining our Science team, you will have responsibility for teaching your specialist science at GCSE level and all 3 sciences at KS3 targeting high quality learning across all year groups. We teach AQA Combined (Trilogy) and Triple science as an option. We are heavily committed to subject specific CPD and are currently actively engaged in numerous CPD programmes. As part of a closely collaborating Trust there are opportunities for the team to extend their practice into other whole Trust areas.

If you have passion and talent for Physics and want to work hard to ignite this in our young people, then you will fit right into our friendly team.

How does our curriculum work?

- as a vehicle to improving social mobility for the town of Melton Mowbray
- regardless of starting points, all students access an aspirational and knowledge-rich curriculum
- all students study Humanities to GCSE and the vast majority will study a language over their 5 secondary years
- in addition to core curriculum, students are offered a wide range of option subjects
- we have a clear focus on transition between primary and secondary (as part of our Trust)
- we are highly committed to offering all students the opportunity to take part in a wide range of enrichment activities, through sport, performance and outdoor and adventurous activities

Working with us will give you:

- an opportunity to work in an exciting, dynamic team with a 'can do' attitude to securing life chances for children
- an environment with moral purpose at its heart
- an invitation to work with primary feeder schools
- a climate that takes seriously the wellbeing of its very much valued teaching team
- a comprehensive wellbeing package of benefits
- a sensible approach to teacher workload
- an opportunity to indulge in your subject specialisms and passion for teaching
- opportunities to develop your career within our growing Trust
- opportunities to extend your experience across a range of academic settings
- 1:1 support in strategic career planning
- a culture that takes work life balance extremely seriously – including sensible approaches to marking and feedback
- a personalised CPD programme to help you achieve all you're capable of
- high expectations for all students
- high aspirations for all stakeholders
