Teacher Standards

Page 6 of the Teachers' Standards and guidance on the standards notes that the standards should be applied appropriately, with regard to the role and context in which the teacher or trainee is practising. It explains that teachers' performance should be assessed against the standards "to a level that is consistent with what should reasonably be expected of a teacher in the relevant role and at the relevant stage of their career". The professional judgement of headteachers and appraisers is therefore central to appraisal against these standards.

On page 7, it says that teachers will be expected to increase the depth and breadth of their knowledge, skills and understanding as their careers progress.
