Welcome from the Headteacher

Dear Applicant

Thank you very much for considering the SENDCO post here at Beck Primary School. I am delighted, as the headteacher, to be able to introduce this post to school and enclose details and an application form for the post. This post is an additional SENDCO post in school reflecting the school's commitment to inclusion.

Our Vision begins with the statement 'Beck: A Big School with a Big Heart'.

What does this mean?

- ♥ Beck is built on love: love for learning, love for our community and love and respect for each other.
- ♥ Beck is filled for fun and laughter. We aim to give our children a place where they feel safe and welcomed and we also aim for this for all our staff.
- ♥ Beck cares: leaders care about all our children and staff. We care about providing the best learning for our children that we can and ensuring all of our staff have a working environment where they feel valued, developed and purposeful.
- ♥ We are resilient, brave, ambitious and aim high in all we do.

Everyone linked to Beck describes our school as one big family. We take very seriously the trust our families have placed in us, by choosing Beck as their child's primary school. We believe every child achieves more when we work in partnership with our whole staff team and our parents and carers. I am personally committed to ensuring this is a true partnership: views and opinions of all stakeholders are important to me.

This vacancy represents a unique opportunity to join a highly ambitious and motivated professional team, which is changing the lives of children in the community it serves.

Beck Primary School's ethos is focussed around a set of core values;

- Be ambitious: Aim high!
- Be enthusiastic!
- Be safe!
- Be respectful
- Be honest!
- Be team players!
- Have your say!

To be able to demonstrate these values in everyday life we support children to develop as responsible members of the school community and alongside our PSHE curriculum we provide a clear behaviour policy for children and staff, so that children feel nurtured, but are also able to meet the high expectations we have of them in a safe and purposeful environment. Staff and children thrive when leaders ensure behaviour systems support excellent behaviour. Our large leadership team are highly visible around school every day. Beck staff are hardworking, have a fantastic sense of humour and are determined to ensure the very best outcomes for the children we serve. Working in our school will be demanding as well as very rewarding.

We focus on a broad and rich curriculum which helps children to build their knowledge and gives them memorable learning experiences and the key skills they need to succeed in today's world. We encourage learning outside the classroom both in our school grounds and by enriching the curriculum with educational visits to give children a hook for learning. Our drive for excellence is particularly evident within our specialist music provision. Every child at Beck has the chance to learn to play a brass instrument and access a range of extra-curricular opportunities.

Why a new and second SENDCO post? ...

... we believe in high quality inclusive practice for all and we have a lot of SEND children!

We are particularly proud of the support we provide for children with Special Education Needs. This was recognised by OFSTED in June 2024 who said:

'Over the last few years, the school has welcomed an increasing number of pupils with special educational needs and/or disabilities (SEND). The proportion of pupils with complex SEND has also increased over time. Across the curriculum, lessons and resources are adapted well for these pupils. Clear plans are put in place, so that pupils' learning is broken down into logical steps. This enables pupils to learn the same curriculum, alongside their peers. The school provides several areas of nurture and sensory provision, for example in the specially resourced provision for pupils with SEND (specially resourced provision). Many pupils with more complex SEND find it difficult to reach the standards expected for their age when they leave Year 2 or Year 6. However, pupils with SEND at Beck Primary School typically make good progress from their starting points.' OFSTED 2024

We have a high level of expertise in supporting additional needs within our mainstream classrooms and within more specialist provision. The diversity of our learners is what makes Beck unique and special. School leaders, including our governors and Cascade are demonstrating their commitment to inclusion through the introduction of this role. We have a very experienced (and talented) SENDCO, who is a Lead SENDCO in the Locality.

However, we also have a large SEN cohort and have introduced three separate provisions beyond the mainstream. We believe this requires a team approach and know that this post offers a brilliant opportunity to undertake the full role of SENDCO within a very supportive environment and alongside a senior SENDCO. The SENDCO team is also supported by Lisa Whitehead, the Trust inclusion lead who is a very experienced leader of SEND in complex contexts. Lisa oversees our fantastic Integrated Resource. She brings together all SENDCOs and provision leads across the trust regularly: no one works in isolation.

We are keen to attract someone who is either experienced in SEND leadership or someone who is looking to a career in SEND leadership and is driven to ensure excellence for all children with additional needs. The role is initially fully non-class based. There will be good support and development given to the successful candidate, with access to leadership development and commitment to supporting you to undertake the SENDCO qualification.

We are passionate about team working and we will provide every opportunity to both share and learn about best practice. To be part of our team, you must truly believe in the power of partnership working. We are committed to the professional development of all our staff and invest in high quality training and support to ensure staff can discover their full potential. We are committed to supporting the wellbeing of every member of the school community and workload for all staff is regularly reviewed.

Beck is part of Cascade Multi Academy Trust, whose driving energy is focused on the highest aspirations for its pupils, parents and staff members. We work hard to ensure that every child receives the very best education from early years to becoming secondary ready.

My job, as Headteacher, is to ensure every member of staff feels a strong sense of belonging here at Beck and to know they are a valued member of the school community, so that they feel safe to take risks and to be themselves. I believe in every member of the team (staff and children) and I want them to believe in themselves: that is when the magic happens!

Should you wish to join us or you want to know more about the school and the post then you are very welcome to join us. If you decide to apply for the post then please ensure that the enclosed application form is fully completed. A CV is not required.

We look forward to hearing from you.
