This is a great opportunity for you to join the Gorseland Specialist Support Unit. The role is suitable for any teachers who have an interest in teaching children with special needs; strong team support and training will be offered to the ideal candidate. The role will be working in a small group teaching provision with a high ratio of adult support. A strong curriculum has been designed to support the children's academic development alongside their emotional and social development.

In our most recent Ofsted report, dated December 2017, it stated:

'Pupils in the school's specialist support centre are supported very well and make excellent progress.'

'Pupils in the specialist support centre have provision that clearly identifies their needs and ensures their individual progress.'

'Pupils in the unit arrive with low levels of attainment. They make excellent progress within a year of joining the school. Progress in speaking and listening and in social and emotional development are particularly strong.'

We need to recruit a Teacher who:

- has knowledge and experience of mainstream teaching and SEND or special school teaching,
- has excellent teaching skills;
- has the ability to work as part of a team,
- is flexible, enthusiastic, skilled and committed to working with children with SEND;
- has the ability to plan and deliver a specialised curriculum to children with complex learning difficulties.

Gorseland Primary School is in the Kesgrave/Martlesham area. More information about our school can be found on our website – www.gorseland.net
