"To me, programming is more than an important practical art. It is also a gigantic undertaking in the foundations of knowledge." – Grace Hopper, computer science pioneer

We need talented a teacher of computer science to join our successful team. We need someone who loves their subject: someone who loves it so much that they are determined to instil this love in their pupils and grow the next generation of computer science geeks.

Whether you are relatively new in your career or you have been teaching for decades, to really inspire the next generation you need an environment with the right conditions. You need an environment where pupils genuinely want to learn. An environment in which your colleagues are as geeky about your subject as you are.

With our unparalleled professional development opportunities, you will be able to progress in your career, whatever stage you are at. We can guarantee you a tailored programme of support which goes well above and beyond to make sure you thrive. There are copious opportunities for working with international schools and STEM organisations. We also offer Chartered Teacher Status through the Chartered Teacher College which is open to anyone with three years or more teaching experience.

Whatever your level of experience in the classroom, it's your passion for your subject that counts. We prize love of learning above all else. We need a talented teacher of computer science who has the passion to provide pupils with the best possible experience of this fascinating subject. Could it be you?

Our teachers work very hard but they only ever do work which is going to make a difference for our pupils. Quite simply, we believe in common sense approaches to everything. That means:

- Our teachers do minimal marking. Why spend ages with a red pen when there are much better ways to give pupils the feedback they need?
- We never ask for lesson plans. Of any kind. Ever.
- Although schemes of work and resources are provided, they are not prescriptive – we cherish individual approaches to delivery.
- There is no pressure to 'put on a show' in lessons: A culture of typicality is reinforced by no lesson gradings (outstanding, good, etc).
- Everyone has the highest expectations of behaviour, with all staff (not just teaching staff) reinforcing those expectations.
- A clear system of sanctions is applied consistently so staff don't have to battle with pupils.
- Senior Leadership are very visible and all staff 'own' their corridors.
- CPD is tailored specifically to staff needs, based off their feedback.
- There are no prizes for looking busy or staying late – we work in a way that suits us. We make sure we make time for ourselves and our families.

That's just 9 of the things we do to secure our teachers' well-being. There are many more here: <http://www.barrbeaconschool.co.uk/47-things-we-do-staff-well-being/>
