Dear Candidate

Thank you for considering this post. Sir John Nelthorpe School is seeking an enthusiastic and dedicated English Teacher to join our dynamic English and Performing Arts Faculty. This is a fantastic opportunity for a skilled teacher to make a lasting impact in a supportive, ambitious, and forward-thinking school. You will compliment and add to a successful and supportive English & Performing Arts faculty to teach English across Key Stages 3 & 4 on a part-time (minimum 0.6fte) or full-time contract from January 2025. Experience of teaching 'A' Level English, whilst desirable, is not essential. The right candidate will have the attributes to make a valid contribution to our school community and ensure our pupils make excellent progress.

Our School

Judged by Ofsted as Good in October 2023, Sir John Nelthorpe School is a fully inclusive mixed 11-19 voluntary controlled comprehensive school in the heart of North Lincolnshire.

We are looking for a colleague who:

- consistently models excellent practice and has pupils' achievement and progress at the forefront of their teaching
- is an outstanding English teacher across all key stages 3 & 4, or who has the potential and desire to become so
- wants an exciting opportunity to work in a vibrant organisation that makes a difference to our young people's lives
- can make a significant positive contribution to this strong and successful faculty, and to the whole school.
- is able to plan, prepare, and deliver engaging lessons that cater to all learning abilities.
- will contribute to the English and Performing Arts curriculum and participate in creative interdisciplinary projects.
- Assess, monitor, and report on pupil progress, ensuring every pupil achieves their potential.
- Support and collaborate with colleagues to foster a positive learning environment.
- Participate in extracurricular activities, including literacy development

In return you will get:

- The opportunity to teach well-behaved and motivated pupils
- Outstanding professional development with progression opportunities.
- A well-resourced and well managed faculty.
- A supportive and welcoming environment with a strong focus on professional growth.
- Opportunities to work across both English and Performing Arts, allowing for creative collaboration.
- A rich heritage and inclusive school community, dedicated to academic excellence and holistic education.

The post is suitable for both NQT's and experienced teachers, with excellent induction programmes available at all levels.

Application Process:

Applicants are requested to complete the standard North Lincolnshire Council application form. Please note we do not accept CV's. The deadline for receipt of applications is 9:00am on Friday 4th October 2024.

This vacancy provides an excellent opportunity for a forward-thinking teacher of Geography with drive and commitment who is willing to play a key role in building on the success and development of all subject areas within the faculty to become the very best they can be. The person appointed will bring enthusiasm and fresh thinking to a successful team. I look forward to receiving your application. Join us in shaping the future of young learners at Sir John Nelthorpe School!

Yours sincerely

Mr R Biglands
Headteacher
