TEACHER OF HISTORY/HUMANITIES (M1-M3)
Maternity Cover from January 2023 until 31 August 2023 (earlier start date considered)
Part-time role would be considered

We are seeking to appoint a well qualified and enthusiastic teacher of History and Humanities to join a vibrant, diligent and supportive department where teachers are committed to developing learning strategies which challenge and interest all of our students. This is an excellent opportunity for a specialist who is newly qualified or a more experienced teacher to deliver Humanities to pupils of all abilities in all Key Stages. The successful candidate must be able to teach History to GCSE and Advanced Level.

We are committed to developing our staff through first class induction and high quality professional development. As a result, a large proportion of JMHS staff have achieved promotion to middle and senior leadership positions.

John Masefield was recognised by OFSTED in September 2017 as a good school. The inspection found that staff showed a genuine desire for pupils to be safe and happy, and that the school provided high-quality pastoral care for pupils, especially for those who are vulnerable. Teaching was found to be strong in most subjects and that consequently, the great majority of pupils achieve very well as a result.

The school has excellent pastoral care based around small tutor groups, and there are many enrichment opportunities for students.
