

Teacher of History.

The ability to offer a second subject would be preferred.

Required for September 2021.

Full time post. Salary commensurate dependent on experience and evidence.
MS £25,714 to UPS £41,604

We require a dynamic and well-qualified full-time Teacher of History to join this thriving Humanities faculty from September 2021. Applications are welcomed from experienced teachers and those new to the profession, both from the independent and state sectors, who have excellent subject knowledge and are passionate about history. You will have the opportunity to teach across all key stages. The successful applicant will join a professional team in well- resourced facilities.

The governing body is looking for a committed, strong and enthusiastic individual who displays outstanding teaching and can ensure that all students make good to excellent progress. You will display a mix of creativity, innovation, and you will be able to inspire and motivate students. The successful candidate will display a passion for the subject and be able to foster an enjoyment of a History within their lessons. We are looking for someone who will contribute to extra-curricular to promote history in school. This is an exciting time to join a faculty and build on the continuing success of the faculty.

Applications to bursar@nortoncanes-high.staffs.sch.uk

Candidates who are shortlisted will be informed by email where possible.

Closing date: Monday 19th April 2021.

Interviews: TBC