Welcome from the CEO

Walton Multi-Academy Trust is committed to the delivery of quality education for all children in our academies. The Trust's prime responsibility is to set the vision, promote the ethos and develop the culture of our academies and we aim to ensure that each academy fulfils that vision.

We are determined to develop effective partnerships between our academies and to serve our local communities whilst encouraging each academy to retain and develop its unique character and identity. We are excited by the financial and practical benefits of a successful multi-academy trust and we intend for each of our academies to become financially stable and then financially secure.

We are very proud of our academies and of our leaders, governors, teachers, support staff and students. We are currently a small MAT of just two secondary schools (Walton High School and King Edward VI High School) and whilst we have ambitions to grow further, we are determined to retain the supportive culture which we hope we have established.

This is a really exciting time in the development of Walton Multi-Academy Trust and I am looking forward to working productively with you if you share our ambition, drive, ethos and commitment.

Neil Finlay, Chief Executive Officer

Introduction

Walton High School opened in 1967 and serves the south-eastern area of Stafford. We are a school that ourselves in providing students with a caring environment in which they are keen to learn. Parents are supportive of the school but rightly expect exacting standards. The school nestles on the northern boundary of Cannock Chase, an area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. Our school is oversubscribed. Our students either walk or cycle to school. Since the 1960s, the school has been served by only seven substantive headteachers. This continuity has always been a feature of Walton's culture. Additionally, Walton's feeder schools are of an extremely high quality. The school has a PAN of 210 but we are regularly oversubscribed as we are in the current Year 7. .

“ A calm and focused environment typifies the school. ”

Walton is outward facing, having strong links with external partners in teacher training. Evidence informed practice is a hallmark of the school approach to improvement, particularly in teaching and learning. As a result of this practice, the school continually achieves high academic results as well as a variety of other successes. This reflects the efforts of a hardworking and talented staff who always strive to improve achievements across all key stages.

About our school

Walton High School prides itself on its high quality, supportive staff. We attract talented subject specialist teaching staff to interviews and we are able to retain staff once they join us. We believe this is because we provide a stimulating and rewarding environment to work in. We root all our decisions in evidence-based research, from teaching and learning, to behaviour and staff CPD. We also believe that our staff deserve a good work-life balance, so we have worked hard to remove unnecessary tasks from teachers and ask that they focus only on the things that research has shown make a real impact on learning.

Walton is known for aiming high with its curriculum and academic experiences and we pride ourselves on the examination successes of our students. We do, however, invest heavily in the wider experiences of our students. We promote and support the wider curriculum in the areas of sports, arts, music, drama and theatre, gardening, knitting, STEM and DofE, to name but a few, and large numbers of our students are regularly involved. Walton is a school where extracurricular activities are seen positively by all sorts of students and We feel it is vital that we promote and participation rates are high.

We feel it is vital to promote and sustain a collaborative style of working with outside agencies. Whether this is local primary and secondary schools, teaching school hubs or ITT providers, we believe it is important to work with everyone for the benefit of everyone. We also encourage our staff to pursue further qualifications such as NPQs or work with other agencies such as ITT providers so that they deepen and broaden their experiences, skills and knowledge.

“ The recent shift in the culture across the school has been profound. ”

“Pupils are happy here and attend often. Pupils feel safe here.”
-Ofsted, 2024

The school has a heavily invested Teaching and Learning Responsibility structure. Walton High School is one of two schools in the Walton Multi-Academy Trust. The other school is King Edward VI High School which is also located in Stafford. The CEO of the Trust is Neil Finlay, a former Headteacher at Walton.

The school's estate is serviceable, but the spine of the school is showing its age after more than fifty years of operation. In recent years CIF funding has led to the refurbishment of several of our roofs, a new central heating system and the installation of LED lighting. Lettings include the swimming pool and school hall for Stagecoach, a local theatre company. The school has an antiquated 1960s gymnasium and does not have a modern sports hall which brings several limitations; however, the estate does possess around 25 acres of playing fields. These have been extensively planted with trees by our students over the years as a contribution to making the school more sustainable.

School Aims

1. To enable every individual to fulfil their potential
2. To educate the whole student by fostering an ethos where academic success and the development of personal skills and attributes are equally important
3. To create an environment that promotes mutual respect between staff and students
4. To encourage creativity, flair, imagination and enthusiasm in our students
5. To equip our students with the knowledge, skills and personal qualities that will best prepare them for their future lives
6. To sustain a partnership with parents and the local community through effective communication to support our students

Teaching & Learning at Walton High

We are 'evidence-informed' in our approach to teaching and learning. This means that we are aware of, and utilise regularly, strategies that research has shown have the biggest positive impacts on students' learning and progress.

Below, we outline the main areas of our evidence-informed teaching and learning and the strategies within each area that teachers will be using.

We do not have a 'one size fits all' approach to teaching and learning. In other words, we do not expect all teachers across all subjects to teach lessons in exactly the same way. Teachers are the experts in their subject area and we ask departments to implement each strategy in a way which is most appropriate to their subject.

“ The school has delivered a broad and ambitious curriculum that spans well beyond the academic. Ofsted, 2024 ”

Music Department

The music department is a small department (currently 3 staff, 2FTE) that touches many curriculum areas as well as our own. We work closely with the drama department which has its own head of department. Our curriculum core is the National Curriculum for music, as accepted nationwide.

We teach KS3 music to mixed ability tutor groups, allocating time for practical and theory work within each lesson. Year 7 students have 2 x 50-minute lessons per week, Year 8 and 9 students have 1 x 50-minute lesson per week. At KS4, students have the option to choose Music as a GCSE Subject, following the Edexcel course for Music. GCSE groups are allocated 3 x 50-minute lessons per week. At KS5, we follow the Edexcel A Level Music course, with excellent results in the past years. Uptake at GCSE especially is high, with over 65 students currently studying GCSE Music across years 10-11.

The department, working closely with Entrust Music and Performing Arts Service, offers staff and students the opportunity to develop their knowledge and understanding of the arts, with a wide range of ensembles for students and staff available. We currently have an Orchestra, Rock Band, Flute choir, Clarinet Ensemble and a whole school choir, as well as a wide variety of smaller, student-led groups. These groups are first showcased in a school concert in the Autumn term, followed by some groups performing as part of our Pyramid Concert with local feeder schools. Our whole school choir also take part in the Young Voices Concert in Birmingham annually. In the summer term, students are invited to take part in the annual school production either onstage or as a part of the show band. The team is dedicated to including musicians of all abilities in activities, the only prerequisite being a willingness to participate. Working as part of a three-person team, you will have plenty of opportunity to develop existing skills, as well as branching out to learn new ones.

Many of our students take the opportunity to buy into the music tuition scheme offered in partnership with Entrust. Eight visiting teachers, covering orchestral instruments, guitar, keyboard, piano, drum kit and voice, deliver 20-minute lessons to small groups and individual students throughout the academic year.

Accommodation is in a purpose-built suite of rooms in the David Hardman Building and consists of two large classrooms, music tuition room, instrument store/teaching room and five practice rooms.

There is also the potential to upgrade the existing recording studio that is situated between the tuition room and the largest classroom, currently acting as a guitar storeroom. One classroom is equipped with a projector, attached to the teaching computer, and sound system. In this classroom is 17 student keyboards which students share in pairs. The second classroom is equipped with an interactive whiteboard, attached to the teaching computer and sound system. The second classroom has also recently been equipped with 16 student computers and 8 laptops, attached to midi keyboards, all of which are equipped with Sibelius and MuseScore; students are also introduced to BandLab during KS3. Within the practice room spaces, students have access to pianos, electric or acoustic drum kits, keyboards and a variety of guitars and bass guitars when necessary.

The Department is a high-profile department within our high achieving school, with a reputation of excellent practice, high expectations and an ethos of mutual respect.
