

Working for the Makerfield Academy Trust

As the first Training School in the country Byrchall has a long rich tradition in providing high quality and bespoke professional development. The school takes great pride in the professional learning opportunities it offers staff at all levels. Joining Byrchall's learning community will provide you with full access to a well-established and forward-thinking network which strives to help you build a long and rewarding career across our Academy trust.

Byrchall is a strategic partner of the Generate Teaching School Hub and Learning Futures Teacher Training partnership. The Alliance works with a range of primary and secondary schools across Wigan to lead and deliver training and development. Whether you aspire to become a middle or senior leader, or the ambition to become an outstanding practitioner in your area of expertise, our Academy trust will provide you with unequalled access to a range of bespoke courses and qualifications. These courses include a suite of National Professional Qualifications (NPQs), Lead Practitioner (LP) and Expert mentoring. The academy trust takes a lead role in delivering these programmes across the partnership enabling our staff to gain accredited facilitator, expert mentor and coach status with some of the lead National educational providers. In addition, the academy trust oversees the development and provision for Early Career Teachers on behalf of the Local Authority accrediting body and takes a lead role in delivering the Early Career Framework enabling staff to gain relevant accreditation for facilitation and mentoring.

The Academy trust is proud of the close partnership it has with Edge Hill University providing access to a Masters Programme, Research Projects, the National SENCO award and a range of Level 6 & 7 accredited programmes. Some of our staff alumni have even progressed their career via this partnership going on to secure leadership roles within the Faculty of Education. In addition to these exceptional accredited programmes, the school leads Secondary Networks across each of the Subject Disciplines creating the opportunity to collaborate with teachers and leaders across Wigan, sharing up to date research, resources and working together to grow subject expertise, professional practice and personal development. This high impact model of professional development is replicated in school where all staff have protected timetabled time to meet. The trust actively encourages and organises best practice visits across all educational settings including primary, secondary, special and colleges sector.

Our aim is to help you achieve your ambitions more quickly. Our staff CPD programme is underpinned by the most recent and relevant educational research. The excitement of our new build will enable staff to continue to develop Modern and Innovative practice across all aspects of education.

We have a highly experienced team of leaders, mentors and subject specialists, who are all committed to supporting your career and develop. We look forward to receiving your application and discussing your career aspirations further at interview.
