Teacher of Psychology and Criminology (Full-Time)

Required for September 2022.

The Bewdley School is seeking an exceptional teacher of psychology and criminology to join our highly skilled social sciences team. The successful candidate will work collaboratively alongside an experienced psychology specialist, developing a new post-16 criminology offer, with our experienced head of social sciences. We currently offer psychology and health and social care at KS4, with sociology and criminology added to these at KS5. Our dedicated team and school leaders will offer outstanding support and guidance. This opportunity would be suitable for a new entrant to the profession or an experienced teacher.

The Bewdley School, serving the Georgian town of Bewdley and on the banks of the River Severn, is a fully inclusive and comprehensive school. Students are hungry to learn, reflected through their engagement with a broad and diverse range of opportunities. Whilst outcomes are obviously important, it is the richness and quality of learning experiences that are at the heart of the school's ethos and culture.

If you would like to work with skilled colleagues in a supportive environment, where you are free to communicate your passion for your subject, please visit us.

We seek a colleague who has:

- Exceptional energy and enthusiasm
- A real depth of understanding of, and love for, their subject
- A sophisticated grasp of how children learn
- The optimism to imagine a better future

In return we offer:

- Students who are genuinely curious
- A welcoming, friendly and supportive culture
- Opportunities for personal development
- A commitment to rational and balanced leadership

This school is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. The successful candidate will undertake an Enhanced Disclosure via the DBS, where appropriate.

Closing date for applications: Monday 10 January 2022 at 9AM

Further information and an application form are available on the school website.
