WELCOME FROM OUR CEO

It is my pleasure to welcome you to Inspire Education Trust.

At Inspire Education Trust we are passionate about making a difference to the lives of our pupils. They are at the heart of everything we do and we strive to inspire all learners, and want all our schools to be the best they can be and for each and every child, to discover the skills, abilities, talents and interests that lie within them.

We believe in working in partnership, enabling us to ensure all children and pupils achieve their full potential. Our schools know the impact that working collaboratively can bring.

Our schools have a desire to question, change and innovate to ensure that what they provide enables our children to become successful learners, confident individuals and responsible citizens.

At the same time, we recognise the importance for each school to retain and promote their individual identity. Every school has its own context and challenges. This is why we encourage our member schools to lead and manage in a way that preserves that individual identity and responds to the specific needs of their children and community.

The combination of autonomy and collaboration across key areas of leadership and management, underpinned by shared values and best practice is what makes our schools special.

Lois Whitehouse – CEO

HEAD OF EDUCATION - SECONDARY

At Blue Coat Church of England School, our vision is to "Live life in all its fullness." We aim to equip our students for this fulfilling life through an excellent education that is distinctly Christian and inclusive. Our goal is to offer a broad and ambitious curriculum, providing every student with the opportunity to excel academically and reach their God-given potential.

In John 10:10 of the Bible, Jesus states that 'Life in all its fullness' is found in Him. Our inspiration at Blue Coat stems from God's desire to see us flourish in abundant Kingdom living, shaping everything we are and do.

We strive for all children and staff to lead abundant lives, recognizing that academic success is important, but personal and spiritual development are priorities. As educators, we support the holistic development of every child.

Our vision, 'Life in all its fullness,' guides our school values: Care, Hard Work, Respect, Integrity, Servanthood, and Togetherness. These values are integral to a Blue Coat education, and we actively seek opportunities to reinforce them throughout school life.

As a Church of England school, we acknowledge our role in a rich history of delivering high-quality education where it is needed most. We serve both the Christian community of Coventry and the surrounding area, as well as our local geographical community.

Following the Church of England Vision for Education, 'Deeply Christian, Serving the Common Good,' Blue Coat allows students and staff to explore life's big questions with a 'complex yet generous' model that embraces diverse opinions and freedom of expression.

Our fully inclusive and diverse school challenges everyone to make the most of every experience and opportunity. While recognising that not all members may share the Christian faith, we expect everyone in the school community to be sympathetic and respectful of individual faith in personal development.

Our curriculum, delivered by dedicated and experienced staff, is rich and challenging. We take pride in the breadth and variety of our extra-curricular offerings, with Music, Drama, and Sport playing pivotal roles, emphasising the importance of 'Togetherness' in our school community.

With our strong ethos, high expectations, and excellent examination results, Blue Coat is a place where children thrive, learning to live life in all its fullness. We eagerly anticipate welcoming you to our school.

VISION

Our Vision

Living life in all its fullness

Our Vision Statement

To equip our students to live life in all its fullness by providing excellent education which is distinctively Christian and Inclusive of all.

HISTORY OF BLUE COAT SCHOOL

Blue Coat School boasts a rich and enduring history that spans over three centuries, dating back to its founding in 1714 near Holy Trinity Church in Coventry. Originally established as a girls' school with a mission to provide opportunities for all students, the school's commitment to quality education remains steadfast. The current Terry Road site has been home to Blue Coat since 1964, and in April 2020, the school became a member of the Inspire Education Trust, aligning with the belief that a first-class education leads to self-discovery, flourishing, and living life in all its fullness.

Originally founded in the 16th century across England as charity schools, Blue Coat schools were recognised by their distinctive blue uniforms. The Coventry-based Blue Coat School, founded in 1714, occupied the northwest tower of the Priory of St Mary, surviving the Dissolution of the Monasteries. In 1856, the school underwent a major rebuilding, resulting in the current Gothic-style building designed by James Murray to resemble a French château. The school remained at this location until 1964 when it moved to Terry Road. In 2011, the school attained academy status and secured a 125-year lease to the historic Charterhouse Fields.

Over the years, Blue Coat School has garnered recognition for its educational excellence and community contributions. In 2015, the school celebrated its tercentenary, and in 2016, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Julian Welby, visited the institution. Notable accolades include the Educational Outcomes Award in 2015, acknowledging the school's place in the top 10% of England's non-selective schools. Additionally, in 2021, Blue Coat School received the Lord Mayor's Peace and Reconciliation Award, further underscoring its positive impact on the community. The school's commitment to arts and culture is exemplified by its award-winning choir, established in 1976, which has roots dating back to the 18th century and has performed for prominent religious figures. Blue Coat School continues to be a beacon of academic achievement, community service, and cultural enrichment.

FACILITIES

Chaplaincy

The Chaplaincy suite is a vibrant and well-used place within the heart of the school, used by students, staff, visitors and families.

There are two rooms – a quieter room equipped with drink-making facilities, computer and speakers, comfy sofa and chairs where staff and students can meet with the Chaplain. The second room is a multi-purpose space with chairs, beanbags, and prayer space activities. This is used at break and lunchtimes for groups to come and socialise. Throughout the year this space is also used for dedicated prayer.

Blue Coat Theatre

Over the last decade, Blue Coat has developed an outstanding reputation for producing highly professional theatre and musical events, this is a true reflection of the time and dedication given by staff and students alike.

There are lots of opportunities for staff and students to be involved in the performing arts at Blue Coat and we are extremely lucky to have great facilities for rehearsals and performances with Blue Coat Theatre providing a fantastic venue.

Learning Resource Centre

The Learning Resource Centre is a large part of the Blue Coat School. It is open to staff and students all day from Monday-Friday for information literacy lessons, accelerated reading lessons, curriculum subject lessons and during social times.
