Executive Principal: Dayo Olukoshi, OBE

Teacher of Religious Studies

Start date: September 2026

Brampton Manor Academy is seeking to appoint a highly committed Teacher of Religious Studies to join our successful RS department from September 2026.

Religious Studies is a core subject at Key Stages 3 and 4, where we teach the AQA GCSE specification, and is a popular option at Key Stage 5, following the OCR A Level specification. Student outcomes at both GCSE and A Level are consistently strong, underpinned by high expectations, secure subject knowledge and disciplined classroom practice.

The successful candidate will have strong subject knowledge, a genuine enthusiasm for Religious Studies and the ability to teach across the age range. The post would suit an ECT or an experienced teacher who thrives in a structured, high-expectations environment and is committed to securing excellent outcomes for all students. A TLR may be available for a suitably experienced candidate.

We offer:

- motivated, well-behaved students who value learning
- a calm, scholarly and purposeful learning environment
- strong professional development and progression opportunities
- salary on the Main / Upper Pay Range (Inner London)
- membership of the Teachers' Pension Scheme
- free staff lunch and free on-site parking (including EV charging)

Closing date: Monday 9 March 2026 at midday

Interviews: on a rolling basis

Brampton Manor Trust is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people. Enhanced DBS, barred list and prohibition checks will be required.
