The Science Department

We are seeking an inspirational, enthusiastic and innovative science teacher to join our talented team in this high achieving 11-16 comprehensive school. As a successful department, we are looking for someone keen to contribute to this success; someone who will actively enrich our pupils' experiences within science and help prepare them for a diverse world.

The science department at The Romsey School consists of ten teachers and is taught in a suite of nine labs (5 of which have been recently refurbished) set in two of the school blocks, supported by an excellent team of technicians. Results, especially for the Separate Sciences are consistently strong (with grade 9s in the mid to high teens for each of these) and the option take-up of Separate Sciences continues to be incredibly high with almost half the year group choosing it each year.

The science department utilises a combination of SMART boards and digital projectors as well as interactive TV screens to improve teaching and learning as well as networked computers in some rooms. Staff within the science department use a range of software with all ages and abilities, and this forms one of the many different techniques utilised to allow rapid and sustained progress for all pupils. We also utilise Google Classroom as our main online learning tool and also use it to deliver all homework and follow up information.

Science teachers usually have a balanced timetable, teaching the full range of ages and abilities. Pupils are taught in sets according to ability, and composition of all sets is subject to continual review. We run both Combined and Separate Sciences and all teachers are expected to contribute to the teaching of these if necessary.

The department meets on a regular basis where all teachers contribute to the development of the team and the focus of these meetings is on the improvement of teaching and learning and they often take the form of a workshop.

Department staff also play a wider role in the school and community and have been instrumental in the School Fair, Ski Trip, F1 for Schools programme, Enterprise Project, Duke of Edinburgh Award and our Romsey to Kenya project, as well as after school revision workshops. A member of the technician team also runs the Science Club which is very popular amongst the younger members of the school.

This post presents an exciting opportunity to develop both leadership and creative, innovative teaching within an outstanding curriculum area.

We welcome applications from well-qualified and enthusiastic teachers who are capable of contributing to a highly effective and supportive science teaching team. The post is initially a temporary position for one year. The Romsey School is a high achieving and oversubscribed school, committed to high quality inclusive education.

Andy Marks (Deputy Headteacher)

As a member of the Senior Leadership Team at Romsey for 20 years I have greatly enjoyed my leadership role in the evolution of our school. Our students are diverse and wonderful, as are our colleagues who work hard to ensure that all students thrive.

Chris Stephens (Deputy Headteacher)

I really enjoy working at Romsey because I have always felt that the school provides “High Challenge in a Low Threat” environment and it stimulates growth. I also really enjoy working with our students. How happy they are to talk to us, laugh with us and work with us! Lastly, I have always valued the support given to me to enable me to pursue my Career Development.

Alison Clarke (Assistant Headteacher – Pupil Premium & Personal Development)

I love the shared excitement at Romsey, finding out what works, what makes students and staff motivated to achieve, and most importantly to be happy. Romsey is an inclusive school where teachers and support staff of all career stages are excited about the learning and outcomes in the classroom and beyond. We enjoy working in our school because members of the community are valued and nurtured, feeling a sense of belonging where they can work and grow in an inclusive and supportive environment.

David Fawcett (Assistant Headteacher – Teaching & Learning)

Having worked in a number of schools around Hampshire, The Romsey School is a place where both student learning and staff development are front and centre of its drive towards being exceptional. The spirit around the campus is infectious with both students and adults hungry to learn and improve. The school has such a community feel. It is a place where students shine, and staff meticulously develop their craft, working in synergy to be the best they possibly can be. The Romsey School is special and unique, full of opportunities, full of talent, and a place where working with our strong leadership team can help move our school beyond what can be imagined.

Donna Page (Assistant Headteacher - SEND, Diversity & Inclusion)

If you are looking for a supportive team, amazing children and a lovely location - Romsey is the place for you. When I researched job opportunities and then interviewed, I was so excited by the vision of 'aspire, care, include' and I still am. It's not just 'lip-service' of a vision, it is what we do, what we believe and how we run our school.

Adam Bettiss (Assistant Headteacher - Behaviour, Safeguarding and Attendance)

Romsey is a school that is genuinely at the heart of the community it serves and not just in the physical sense. We Aspire, Care and Include in equal measure and the care shown by the student support team for our entire community (parents, pupils and staff) is second to none. It is this unrelenting desire by all staff to support each and every pupil to reach and exceed their potential that gets me through my lengthy commute each day.

Nick Chafer (Senior Leader)

I've been here for 27 years and the main reason why I love it so much? The people and the community. Working here is a joy and allows you to develop a whole spectrum of skills to really make a difference. As a school we have continually evolved and we are all pushed to constantly ask ourselves if we could be doing things better.

The Senior Leadership Team at Romsey is a creative and supportive one. We have a strong focus on empowering all colleagues to develop and evolve teaching and learning and we believe in improving, not proving. As a group we have challenging and also creative conversations, along with lots of laughs.

N.B. The current senior team's roles and responsibilities are available on request.

Gwennan Harrison-Jones (CEO, The Gateway Trust)

I started as CEO at The Gateway Trust (0.6 fte) in September 2022, bringing with me 7 years of previous experience as Headteacher at Cams Hill School, Fareham where I remain on a 0.4fte basis as Executive Headteacher. I have thoroughly enjoyed getting to know the various settings within the Gateway Trust particularly working closely with Annie to get to know 'all things Romsey.'

Chris Nunn (Chief Operating Officer, The Gateway Trust)

I am proud to be a part of The Romsey School Senior Leadership Team. I am thrilled to be involved in the growth of the school as a whole and for all the exciting things to come. There is a real sense of community here, where people are made to feel supported and encouraged.

Judith Houghton (Chair Board of Trustees, GMAT)

On behalf of the Gateway Trust, I'd like to add my thanks for your interest in this role. Our Trust is small at the moment - 1 secondary school, 1 primary school and a community arm - but we have plans for growth and this will include further leadership opportunities within the trust in the future. We have a proven track record of excellent staff development and of tailoring roles and responsibilities around staff, so please do get in touch to find out more.
