The Vacancy

An opportunity has arisen for a suitable individual to work within The Hessle Academy as a Teacher of Science commencing September 2022.

The Academy

At Hessle Academy, we think our learners are extraordinary. Each year they achieve outcomes that are consistently above the national average while regularly dazzling us with their talents in the Arts and Sport.

We couldn't achieve this without our staff – our greatest asset. They are talented, professional, immensely dedicated to the success of our learners and committed to their own professional development.

At Hessle Academy, we value our staff and take their wellbeing seriously, with a commitment to reducing workload over the next three years, an annual staff Wellbeing Day and an active staff social committee. Consequently, Ofsted (September 2018) noted that, 'morale is high'.

As one of the schools in The Consortium Academy Trust, we offer significant career development opportunities for our staff and we expect your commitment in return. We think our learners deserve it.

The Candidate

This is an exciting time for an ambitious and innovative teacher to join the Science team. We are looking for someone with excellent teaching and communication skills, who will be creative, enthusiastic and committed.

The successful candidate will be a talented and creative teacher, consistently delivering high quality lessons. The successful candidate will have a desire to inspire pupils.
