We welcome applications from candidates at all career stages.

Nunnery Wood High School requires an inspiring teacher of Science to join our thriving school. The Science Department is looking for a well-qualified teacher to teach within a strong department in which achievement is exceptional and student engagement is excellent.

Nunnery Wood High School is oversubscribed and enjoys a strong reputation in the region. Staff and students enjoy school life and staff voice extremely high levels of satisfaction with working conditions and leadership of the school. Staff enjoy many benefits including a slightly lighter timetable than is common and a school gym.

Recent Ofsted inspections describe both results and student behaviour as significant strengths. Our intake is broad, from the academically gifted to students requiring nurturing in numeracy and literacy. We are ambitious for them all and share a deep conviction that they should all reach their potential with us.

Outcomes at GCSE have been consistently excellent in the Science Department. All teaching spaces are either new or refurbished with new screens and computers and there is a Science workroom. This is a fantastic opportunity for dedicated and driven professionals to join our team. You must possess the skills and determination to make a significant difference to the lives of our students. Applications are invited from both newly qualified and experienced professionals.

This is an opportunity to work in a thriving school where students, staff and parents work together to achieve something of which we are immensely proud.

Application forms and further information are available from the vacancies section of the school website.

Closing date for applications: Thursday 23rd January 2025, 3pm

All applications must be made on ETeach, or the Gov.uk teaching jobs application form CVs will not be considered.
