

Teacher of Science

We are looking to appoint, with effect from 1st January 2023, an inspirational and enthusiastic teacher of Science, who has the ability to engage and enthuse students and staff with a passion for the subject. The post holder will be expected to deliver courses to KS2 and KS3

This is an exciting opportunity for an ambitious and committed teacher to contribute to all aspects of teaching and learning. The successful candidate will have a proven track record of excellence within the classroom, be able to demonstrate their ability to motivate and inspire students and will contribute to raising standards of achievement in the school.

This is an exciting time in our school's development. Our success is built upon the relationships we have with our students and we encourage them to be curious and inquisitive whilst developing their independent learning skills. A significant factor in our improvement has been our ongoing focus on improving the quality of teaching to influence and improve outcomes. We are continually looking to develop our teaching and learning strategies through an excellent CPD programme. All members of teaching staff receive dedicated training time every week to enhance the development of their classroom strategies in order to improve student progress and engagement.

We encourage our children to be aspirational and believe that the environment we create is of paramount importance. The successful candidate would join a committed and effective staff who strive to ensure students have the best possible experiences in the classroom.

If you feel you have the energy and potential to become an outstanding teacher, the desire to inspire a love for your subject and can demonstrate you have the experience, skills and attributes detailed in the job description and person specification, then we would like to hear from you. Applications from both experienced and newly qualified teachers are welcome.
