Teaching School Hub Leader

Salary L1-L5

- Are you looking to be part of something new and exciting?
- Are you personable, organised, enthusiastic and do you thrive in a busy fast paced work environment?
- Do you have a passion for teacher development?
- Are you proactive and want to be part of making a difference in education in our region?

Northern Lights Teaching School Hub are looking to recruit a Teaching School Hub Leader who will lead the operational management of the newly designated hub across the region of Sunderland, South Tyneside and Gateshead covering 249 schools.

The role will involve managing the main priorities of the Hub:

Early Career Framework, the new suite of NPQs, Initial Teacher Training, Appropriate Body responsibilities and a full CPD programme.

The role will work in collaboration with a range of partners including all Early Years providers, schools and educational providers in our region. The Hub will provide the 'golden thread' of teacher development from training to become a teacher through to Executive Leadership.

Do you have:

- A collaborative approach to working?
- A passion for teacher development?
- A strong belief in the importance of teacher development in impacting on pupil outcomes?
- Experience of working with a range of agencies and/or schools?
- A strength in building and maintaining positive relationships?
- Organisational ability to manage multiple priorities and to manage a team to achieve excellent outcomes?
- The ability to be a public face of the Hub with a friendly, professional, knowledgeable and humble approach?

Northern Lights Learning Trust are committed to promoting and ensuring the safety of all its pupils and staff and expects everyone share this commitment.

- Excellent knowledge of teacher development and the importance of research within teacher development?
- A willingness to learn and to shape and develop the new Hub?
- Qualified Teacher Status?

If so, we would really welcome your application

In return you can expect to receive:

- Job satisfaction with wide reaching impact across the region
- The opportunity to work with multiple partners across the region and contribute to education development in our region
- Professional development
- Opportunities to shape this new role in the new Hub
- The opportunity to work as part of a vibrant and high-performing team
- Teachers pay and conditions

This role is based at the Hub in Northern Lights Learning Trust, situated in Benedict Biscop CE Academy, Marcross Drive, Sunderland, SR3 2RE and will also involve travel to other venues as part of the role. The post may also include some evening and weekend work when required and is subject to TSH funding.

Interested applicants are encouraged to have a conversation with the CEO of Northern Lights Learning Trust, Jo Heaton. Please contact – tshinfo@nllt.co.uk
